

Figure: A typical canonical model of directional cDNA library construction using oligo-dT primers

Expected sequence features include vector fragments (not displayed in the figure, flanking two restriction sites), restriction site1, adaptor1, polyA or polyT tails and restriction site2. For some biologists, the second adapter/linker sequence (adapter2) might be applied between the polyA or polyT tails and restriction site2.